

BEST PET FOR HOME

Want to keep a pet best for home? Go on thinking, there are number of benefits of having a pet. Pets provide companionship, make you responsible, and offer much-needed amusement and love. Owning a pet is one of the most satisfying, powerful and thrilling things you can do.

Having a pet now become fashion all over the world. During the recent times, nearly one in three of Americans adopted a pet, according to <https://www.iii.org/fact-statistic/facts-statistics-pet-ownership-and-insurance>

Picking out the pet that's right for your home is no mirror matter. With all the attractive mini options, it is difficult to decide which pet is best for you? Before moving on, you need to know what a pet requires.

After all, some pets requires massive amounts of space, supervision and attention, while others prefer to be left in peace. It all depends on your lifestyle, the amount of space you have , and your budget. You also know how much time and crack you're willing to put forth to become a pet owner.

Let's debunk all the myths and find out which pocket pets are perfect for you?

DOG

Looking for the best pet for home? The dogs are the default choice for every pet lovers across the world .Over 63 million households in the United States owned at least one dog according to <https://www.statista.com/statistics/198095/pets-in-the-united-states-by-type-in-2008/>. Dogs must be housebroken and require daily exercise, veterinary inspections and immunizations, and lots of love.

Can dog feel our emotions? Well. Yes! Recent studies <https://www.google.com/amp/s/api.nationalgeographic.com/distribution/public/amp/animals/article/dogs-breeds-pets-wolves-evolution> point out that some changes have been found in their genes that make them vey much sociable. Dogs are extremely faithful to their owners.

Dogs like to have a spaces to call their own—may be a comfortable sofa, a cool space or a well managed dog bed. Giving your pet a proper space will help them feel relaxed and cozy.

It's very exciting to bring a dog into your home! But those tempting fluffies do turn your life upside down. On average, a dog needs minimum of 1-2 hours a day- either in form of walking, exercising, enrichment activities or general cuddle time.

Dogs generally eat all types of food. But as a pet owner you need to know the food that meets their nutritional demand. Some love to eat kibble and canned food while others have affection for home cooked and raw meat.

At last! No two dogs are the same, so take your time and find a perfect match

CAT

Cats are second on our list! Cats can live up to 15-20 years. Cats are docile yet playful. Cats are brilliant if you love to stick around with them and can give that prolonged commitment. These woolly little critters are astonishing house pets.

Like dogs, cats do need to look after but the good thing about them is that they offer you a more space and freedom than dogs.

Well! Depending on where you live you can opt to keep your cat indoors, or you can manage a cat bed or let them wander on their own. Vaccination must be done and keep an eye on your pet as they are too smart and sentient creature.

Cats love the very same things that you love- fresh delicious food, long naps, lots of fun and daily play time. But the expensive part of having a cat as a pet is food. It may cost you a bit! But cats are still the one of the best pets for home.

RABBIT

Cats and dogs are only the tips of iceberg. Are you looking for a cuddly friend, a chum, or a pet you can observe that doesn't require a great deal of interaction?- Rabbit is the perfect one.

Rabbits are so social that they prefer to live in group. If you want to have a rabbit, buy a pair! If not then be a good companion. Rabbits also multiply so quickly, so get a same-sex pair. Rabbits are found funny, curious and sometimes fascinating.

Rabbits are very energetic and enthusiastic that they require plenty of stimulation or they can get tired. The House Rabbit <https://rabbit.org> recommends a large hutch, a huge pen, a bunny-proofed room or an exercise cage. But be watchful while leaving the rabbit from cage because they like to chew according to <https://rabbit.org/living-with-a-house-rabbit-2/>.

Rabbit eats grass hay, Vegetables, carrots, rabbit pellets. Besides these requirements though, rabbits can be left to their own devices, so make for great starter pets. Daily activities include feeding, cleaning, grooming and exercising.

The very much adorable pets and great pet for toddlers.

FISH

A fish is an easy starter, if you get it right. You can start off from little and enlarge your aquarium or pond into a spirited community of fish. Fish is easy to take care of and economical.

A myth roaming around that fish requires a lot of care. Fortunately, there's not much you need to do besides clean up the tank and feed them. Unlike all other pets, you just need a fish bowl or aquarium for a fish. You don't need to worry about noise bothering you and your neighbors or having to provide daily exercise for your pet.

Plenty of nutritious food are available at market at very low cost. Fish likes to eat fish flakes, pellets, chips, wafers, stick. But they do eat fresh dried food and natural food. What you can buy! All depends on the budget you have.

According to <https://www.iii.org/table-archive/22742>, freshwater fishes are one of the best pet for home. Don't think too much, just go to the fish shop and buy some of them for you.

BIRD

Last but not least, a bird is a good looking choice for a economical and sociable person. Actually, you can select the bird that matches with your personality. Some birds attach with their owner while others don't.

It depends! what type of bird you want. Some beautiful birds like finches, cockatiels, parakeets, canaries and lovebirds are playful, very intelligent and interacting. While others like to be left alone.

Beside that, bird don't require a large pen or well built house, they just need the cage that provide them enough space to spread their wings. But, it's great if you can lay out a safe place in your home for them to fly willingly now and then. And, don't forget to clean to the cage here and there.

Commercial seed mixes, fresh water, juicy vegetables and fruit are what the birds cherished the most. Pet birds are colorful, lively and playful. In addition to that, you may find them funny and tweeting and chirping . Some birds have an mysterious ability to imitate human voices, as well as many other sounds.

Pets wants attention and work, but can be one of the most satisfying activities on the planet! We have brought to light some of the fascinating pets with you. Do any of these pet's captivate you? Let us know in the comment box